Question 1

The people who would benefit from Radiant Skin Co are South African young professional females aged between the ages of 24 to 34, this generation faces economic pressures but they are working, saving, investing in themselves and building towards a better future. They are ambitious, digitally fluent and financially intentional. The majority of them face the challenge of not yet having the financial security to easily deal with turbulent times meaning they are far more price sensitive compared to other generations and are most likely to leave a negative review or cancel a product or service that they are dissatisfied with.

An article written by YDX states this generation wants to engage with brands that are real, honest and transparent meaning I need to position Radiant Skin Co as a brand that is honest, authentic and trustworthy, it needs to meet the needs of this audience in order to be recommended by its users through reviews and word-of-mouth. Furthermore the article tells us that 90% of this audience is likely to recommend a product or service they like and 78% of them rely on customer reviews before making a purchase, making them the perfect target audience looking for value of money and they expect brands to meet them where they are with new ideas,collaboration and innovative solutions.

The reason I chose the social media platform Instagram is because according to an article written by Brand Affairs instagram has innovative features that help brands make their content dynamic and appealing which impacts emotional connections and brand loyalty for consumers, the also offers many opportunities for innovative campaigns where creativity and authenticity plays a vital role in visually appealing designs and the article also states that instagram has a high interaction rate which companies lean more towards because they can address customers directly furthermore it is a platform that has higher chances of increasing brand awareness, build loyal communities and deeper relationships with customers.

According to SproutSocial Instagram has three billion active monthly users with the largest age group of 24 to 34 year olds, who on average spend an hour and thirteen minutes daily on the app. They continue to state that Instagram's audience has shifted towards a more commercially valuable age group making it stronger for mid-to-bottom funnel campaigns, especially for lifestyle, ecommerce, SaaS products aimed at young professionals. Furthermore they state that 24-34 year olds respond strongly to brands that reflect how they live, work and spend.

Question 3

Because branding details are unavailable I decided to design a typographic logo, product prototype and a simple ad that highlights product benefits and product description.
